Life Drops IS A ONE-OF-A- KIND PRODUCT

"We consider Life Drops™ important to wellness and the treatment of various disease states for many reasons.

1. Theoretically, Life Drops™ carries more oxygen possibly allowing for greater oxygen delivery to your cells. Low oxygen is associated with the inflammation that underlies virtually every chronic disease state.

2. Science behind Life Drops shows increased antibody production by the immune system."

"Athletes who are using recommended amounts of Life Drops™ for performance purposes report experiencing quicker recovery times."

SUPPORTS THE FIGHT AGAINST INFLAMMATION THAT LEADS TO PAIN

Oxygen is important for overall health. Low oxygen levels are associated with the inflammation that underlies different types of diseases. Life Drops increases the oxygen level in our body.

LIVE BLOOD ANALYSIS

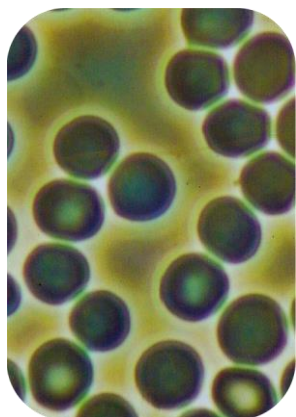

The following photographs are real images

BEFORE:

Red blood cells should have a normal size and shape and should be evenly distributed to function properly. The lack of oxygen affects shape, size, and distribution. This may result in illness and disease.

AFTER

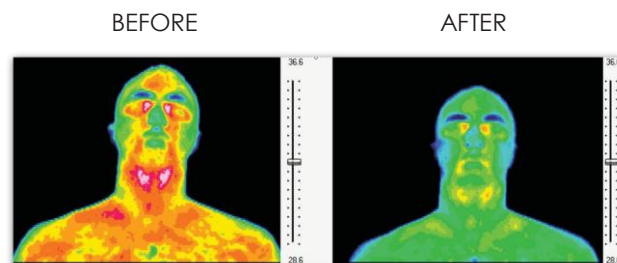

AFTER: 15 minutes after taking Life Drops diluted in distilled water. Red blood cells now have a regular size, shape, and distribution and are now functioning properly.

THERMAL IMAGING: THE POSITIVE EFFECTS OF Life Drops Water

Temperature is considered a reliable diagnosis for inflammation. Inflammation causes an increase in body temperature. Thermal images show clear changes in temperature after the use of Life Drops. Reduced inflammation can positively affect any treatment program.

These images can be viewed showing the effects of Life Drops after only 15 minutes.

Notice that after drinking Life Drops, the inflamed area shows a considerable change in temperature. Results like these speak for themselves.

"Since adding [this water] to our treatment programs in our clinic, we are getting an average of 30 percent improved recovery times with our patients."

STABLE WATER CLUSTERS BASED ON REAL SCIENCE

STABLE WATER CLUSTERS FORMING A DOUBLE HELIX

The image to the left was taken with an Atomic Force Microscope and shows water molecules clustering into a double helix shape. The similarity to DNA structure is startling.

Life Drops is found in nature and was undiscovered until recently. Life Drops is the result of breakthroughs in science allowing the conversion of ultra-pure water into our unique double-helix-shaped Stable Water Clusters.

The lab has the latest technology and some of the most advanced scientific equipment available today, including a custom designed water purification system, existing nowhere else on earth.

Life Drops is backed by over a decade of scientific breakthroughs and has been the subject of major university studies worldwide, including a study at UCLA that concluded that Stable Water Clusters stimulate the immune system's response capabilities.
